

We are currently looking for a post-doctoral fellow to join our Gene-Editing Lab in the Department of Pediatric Hematology and Oncology (Bambino Gesù Children's Hospital, Rome). The candidate should hold a PhD degree, experience in Gene Editing techniques and working with Hematopoietic Stem Cells. The applicant will have the possibility of working on multiple projects related to onco-hematologic/immunologic diseases of childhood with growing scientific independence in the context of a highly competitive and scientifically challenging environment. For further information please contact: giulia.ceglie@opbg.net

Type of contract: 1-year term with possibility of extension. Salary will depend on the candidate's experience. Please send your CV to: giulia.ceglie@opbg.net